

Gloucester University Media Department

The first installation of Rawson's new Recover carpet tiles took place in the media department at Gloucester University Media Campus. Recover carpet tiles carry the practical advantages of being very lightweight with high acoustic and thermal properties. However the sustainability credentials of Recover are a first in the market place. Recover is made from up to 80% GRS accredited recycled raw materials and after the products long life due to class 33 heavy contract accreditation and castor chair testing, it can be fully recycled back into PET for a multitude of further life uses. The product has just completed full BRE assessed EPD's.
